Plan and execute with progress-aware replanning

Conceptual workflow | plan state is separate from tool execution

A step can use one or more tools. Serial steps are illustrated; dependency-aware parallel execution is a separate design choice.

An explicit plan drives execution; completed-step evidence supports either replanning or a final response.