Tool-call and result protocol

Conceptual message sequence | one call shown; further calls may follow

The application executes the function and returns output linked to the model's call identifier.